Author of "Jurgen" Defends Himself Against the Philistines

Great Tumblebug States His Case for the Court of Philistia

By James Branch Cabell

THE Tumblebug states his case among the Philistia. In a court of law in that region, he is accused by the Philistia, and is charging that he is being made a scapegoat. The Tumblebug, who is also known as the Jewish man, is a clever and ingenious fellow, who is not afraid to speak his mind. He says, "You are making a scapegoat of me, and I am not afraid to speak my mind. You are making a scapegoat of me, and I am not afraid to speak my mind."

"The Rainbow" and "Jurgen" Canned Says Positerity May Take Books Now Banned

By William Cullen Bryant

William Cullen Bryant, the American poet, has written about the books of "The Rainbow" and "Jurgen". He says, "I am not afraid to speak my mind. I am not afraid to speak my mind."

The Complete Opera Book

By Gustave Kobbé

This is a complete book about the operas. It contains a history of the operas, along with information about the composers and performers. It is a valuable resource for anyone interested in opera. The book is available at $4.00.